

Station 31 Expert Panels

12/19/03 Update

Medical Testing Advisory Panel

A draft of educational information for Station 31 members about medical screening is under review by the panel. They will meet again in early January to review the results of the Prezant Industrial Hygiene Study and to determine next steps.

Epidemiological Study Advisory Panel

Work continues to develop a computerized database of people who have worked at Station 31 since the station opened in January of 1975. Data collection, verification and database construction is expected to be complete by late December/early January. The data will then be matched with the Washington State Cancer Registry in an analysis to compare cancer incidence in Station 31 members with the general population. An epidemiologist based at the Washington State Department of Health will conduct the analysis.
